CHANNEL SCORECARD

“Expert tools. First-hand knowledge.

Cyberhomes™ valuations give you access to most of the same information that real estate professionals use to evaluate homes. From ListingBook LLC, the leader in property information, services, and technology for REALTORS®, appraisers, and lenders, you get the power of detailed, proprietary analysis of your home and community. Whether you own your place, are thinking of buying, or even just looking around, you can explore data ranging from property facts, value estimates, and a variety of important indicators of local and national changes in the housing market.

The Cyberhomes database includes more than 100 million property, ownership, sales, and mortgage records, covering more than 85% of the United States population.” - Excerpt from CyberHomes.com

Displaying your listings on Cyberhomes will help consumers monitor their most important investment- - their home - - while also marketing your active listings. It drives traffic and leads without intervention or fees.
